

About ACTT

The Arnold Community Theatre Troupe was created at the beginning of last year. As many of you might remember, last January, some Fox High School Theatre Troupe alumni performed an adaptation of A Christmas Carol in honor of the late Michael Nash. Michael Nash had been a very influential part in the Fox High School Theatre Troupe. He had talked from time to time about wanting to have a community production of A Christmas Carol and that sparked the idea.

After the performance, many community members as well as the actors themselves were asking, "Is something like this ever going to happen again?" And so it was later decided to establish the Arnold Community Theatre Troupe to help spread the entertainment of theatre to the Arnold area throughout the years.

Over the summer, the ACTT held their first official production: A community-written and community-directed One-Act Festival. There were six one-acts performed and the production was a success. The festival helped integrate ACTT into the community for two reasons: First, there were community members acting, not just the Fox High School Theatre Troupe alumni from before. Also, local businesses were able to put their ads in the program showing that they support the ACTT and that the ACTT supports them.

Then winter came and It's a Wonderful Life was chosen as the winter production. It has been stressful and exciting for everyone involved getting this show ready in only a short number of weeks. We hope it will keep everyone in the holiday spirit.

The Arnold Community Theatre Troupe is open to people of all ages and experience levels from the Arnold community and surrounding areas. For more information on how you can get involved, fill out the survey inside your program and leave it at the table in the lobby on your way out.
